

Deutsche Tage

[GAI GERMAN DAYS]

Main Stage

When: Saturday, 11 AM–10 PM, Sunday, 11 AM–5 PM

Where: GAI grounds

Dance to the Joey Johnson Band, a local trio that can polka with the best. A full schedule of entertainers include Ron Machel on accordion, the lovely Swiss Alp Horns, and concertina virtuoso Josh Eidsor. See the Entertainment link for the full Main Stage schedule

Cultural Stage

When: Saturday, noon–5:30 PM, Sunday, noon–4 PM

Where: GAI grounds

Stop by for talks and demonstrations on sauerkraut making, genealogy, environmental topics— even alp horn playing. Tours of the GAI Haus are also scheduled. See the Entertainment link for the full Cultural Stage schedule

Kaffee und Kuchen

When: Noon–5 PM, Saturday and Sunday

Where: GAI Haus

The GAI Damenklub will be selling their delicious homemade tortes and coffee in the GAI Haus buffet room.

Environmental Pavilion

When: All day, Saturday and Sunday

Where: GAI grounds

Learn about alternative energy, energy efficiency, and passive house design. Kids can make flower seed bombs. Vendors include US/Solar, Fresh Energy, LEED, Xcel Energy Smart Homes, and Ryan Stegora, Passive House builder. Special four-legged guests from Goat Dispatch, a company that rents out these eco-friendly animals, will be on site both days.

Modern Apprenticeship Pavilion

When: Noon–4 PM, Saturday and Sunday

Where: GAI grounds

Learn about the German Dual Education system and local apprenticeship options at the Modern Apprenticeship Pavilion, part of a larger GAI initiative highlighting German-style apprenticeships.

Spaghettieis

When: All day, Saturday and Sunday

Where: GAI Snack Booth

Treat yourself to fun and delicious Spaghettieis. Both afternoons this weekend, we will be churning out this popular German treat. It's vanilla ice cream made to look like spaghetti topped with strawberry sauce. Lecker!

BMW Motorcycle Club and Twin Cities VW Club

When: All day, Saturday and Sunday

Where: GAI parking lot

Hang out with other admirers of beautiful German machines and learn more about these Twin Cities' clubs.